

An Introduction to Lean Project Management

By

LEAN THINKING LTD

In collaboration with CITB-ConstructionSkills, FMB, CIOB, CIC, CC, EMCBE & WMCCE

An interactive One-day workshop for senior executives

Previous delegates' Feedback:

"The most thought provoking course I've attended"

"The implementation resulted in 25% increase in our profit margin"

Lean Thinking Ltd has developed a unique Lean Project Management methodology that allows radical and simultaneous improvement against the three key performance criteria of Time, Cost, and Quality without trade off.

The workshop will cover how our past & present customers have achieved improved profits by 25% and reduction of construction times by 27%.

Simulation exercises and real life construction case studies are used to give hands-on introduction to LPM and how it can apply to the entire supply chain.

This unique and interactive workshop has been developed for senior executives. These workshops have attracted over 1500 senior managers from throughout the entire supply chain.

The presenters Ali Mafi & Neil Butterill have over 40 years of project management experience in construction and will share with you their unique approach to the practical application of LPM.

To reserve your place on the next series of programmes, please complete your details on the following page.

"This project has been delivered with support from CITB-ConstructionSkills Management and Supervisory Development Fund. The fund provides financial backing to encourage innovative ideas that deliver management training benefits across the industry."
