

PRESS RELEASE

8 December 2003

Another Construction Challenge for the North West!

The second CIC North West Construction Challenge took place on 25 November at Bar 38, Manchester. Building on the success of last year's event, 18 teams from across the region took on the challenge to construct a beam, from materials including elastic bands and garden wire, which would span 900mm and support a 'load' of 125mm nails.

PMJ Architects were the ultimate winners of the challenge. The prize for "the most aesthetically pleasing structure" went to Wentworth Consulting, with the Construction Industry Training Board (CITB) a close second. Sadly, even the addition of a Kylie Minogue picture couldn't help the Eversheds team win a prize.

Over 120 people attended the event, which was generously sponsored by Hobbs Reprographic.

ENDS

Notes to Editors

CIC is the representative forum for the professional bodies, research organisations and specialist trade association in the construction industry. It provides a single voice for professions in all sectors of the built environment through its collective membership of 500,000 individual professionals and 25,000 firms of construction consultants.

For further information and photos please contact Paul Swift at CIC North West:

email p.swift@wiganmbc.gov.uk

tel 01942 404281