

PRESS RELEASE

17 June 2004

CIC launches new website www.cic.org.uk

The Construction Industry Council website has been redesigned and restructured to give better navigation and to communicate the work of the CIC more clearly. The site includes details of :

- organisational structure, secretariat and members;
- current activities within the CIC, including work in the areas of lifelong learning, innovation and research, and sustainable development;
- the various services that the CIC provides, including adjudication, appeals tribunals and approved inspectors; and
- publications, news and events.

The site also includes details of projects that CIC is engaged in as a partner in ConstructionSkills.

Graham Watts, Chief Executive of CIC said

“Redeveloping our website fulfils one of the key objectives in CIC’s Corporate Plan. The site will continue to develop and grow and will not only improve communications with and between members but will also be a major portal for access to information on developing initiatives in the built environment.”

The website can be accessed at www.cic.org.uk

Notes to the Editor

1. CIC is the representative forum for the professional bodies, research organisations and specialist trade associations in the construction industry. It provides a single voice for professionals in all sectors of the built environment through its collective membership of 500,000 individual professionals and 25,000 firms of construction consultants.
2. ConstructionSkills is a partnership between CIC, CITB-ConstructionSkills and CITB (NI) as the Sector Skills Council for Construction.
