CIC

BUILT ENVIRONMENT
PROFESSIONS TOGETHER

Today's agenda

1. 2015/6 review.
2. New review.
3. Take questions and then
4. Your ambitions for the CIC

Part 1

What did we do last time?

Strategic priorities 2015-2020

- Provides thought leadership relevant to the construction industry and the wider built environment
- Champions and collectively represents UK built environment professions
- Promotes collaboration and knowledge sharing amongst its members

In 2020 we proposed....

- Has a name and strapline which reflects what we represent, with a clear message and vision and clearly defined priorities;
- Has a stable, sustainable financial model with clear and diverse lines of income including training and leadership programs;
- Has a code of ethics for built environment professionals;
- Has brilliant communications with its members who are proud to state that they are members of the organisation;
- Co-ordinates and facilitates co-operation and collaboration between its members;
- Is the Industry lead on cross-cutting issues and major themes such as skills, talent, diversity and sustainability and promotes professional values;
- Facilitates and champions the sharing of data and knowledge between its members;
- Is highly regarded by its members, government, professionals, their businesses and clients.”

Strategic Review 2021-2025

Strategic Priorities

Key challenges to be addressed by CIC's strategic priorities for 2021-2025?

During 2021-2025, the CIC:

- 1. Provides thought leadership relevant to the construction industry and the wider built environment
COVID Recovery? Climate Change? Diversity? Technical Change? Quality?
- 2. Champions and collectively represents UK built-environment professions
COVID Recovery? Economic Policies? Climate Change?
- 3. Promotes collaboration and knowledge sharing amongst its members
Key campaigns? Membership services and support? Communications?

Part 2

Key questions for the current review

- What is the vision and mission of the Construction Industry Council
- What is its value proposition?
- What functions does the CIC perform well?
- What changes are necessary and why?
- What aspects do we need to 're-invent'?
- What should a re-invented Construction Industry Council look like?
