

GENERAL 2024 ELECTION

MANIFESTOS FROM THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT

The Construction Industry Council (CIC) has united built environment professionals for the past 35 years, standing as a pivotal collective voice for a broad array of disciplines. Our members represent approximately 500,000 individual professionals and 25,000 firms of construction consultants.

In anticipation of the UK General Election 2024, CIC is proud to present our members' manifestos, which outline key sector priorities and highlight the sector's critical contributions to national policy discussions.

WE URGE THE NEXT GOVERNMENT TO:

- ✔ Prioritise enhancing national health and wellbeing through the liveability of the built environment. This involves creating spaces that promote physical and mental health, safety, and accessibility for all.
- ✔ Recognise the urgency of developing a collaborative national roadmap with built environment professionals to urgently address climate change and biodiversity decline.
- ✔ Invest in innovation across built environment research, education, practice, and lifelong learning. This investment is crucial to drive advancements, equip professionals with new and emerging skills, and sustain the industry's growth and resilience in the face of future challenges.
